The Recruiterlink Platform

Recruiterlink gave me the chance to substantially increase my income and redress my work/life balance.

It's simple and effective. There's no cost and no risk. I just wish I'd found it sooner!

Maximise your income, improve your work/life balance and be your own boss in an industry worth over £30 billion

It is estimated that over 600,000 people in the UK change jobs every year.

Most employers use recruitment agencies as their method of finding both temporary and permanent staff. The Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development (CIPD) reported that the proportion of organisations which recruit in-house is dropping, increasing the demand for new recruitment firms.

The Recruitment & Employment Confederation (REC), report that the UK recruitment industry now has an annual income in excess of £30 billion and there is no sign of a decline in the growth it has enjoyed over the last 5 years

There is little doubt that the recruitment industry is both buoyant and continuing to grow.
